Reverend President, Honored Guests, Members of the Faculty, Parents and Friends . . .

When I sat down to write this little speech, (and you can rest easy, it is not long), my foremost concern was that it not come off like a commercial for Sominex. I was concerned not only about the content of the speech but the style as well. What in the world, I said to myself, could I possibly say that would keep people awake and listening? What's more, how could I say it without sounding like a "straight-A illiterate," turning fifty dollar nonsense phrases and sprinkling my speech with golden names like Plutarch, Horace and Livy. My anxiety intensified when I picked up the final edition of the University Voice, Fairfield's school newspaper. My fears were spelled out in black and white in one of the letters to the Editor. The writer, who shall remain anonymous, (and yes, he's out there in the ranks of the graduates today) said the following: To the editor, "About 95% of the people that the Valedictorian is is preaching to at the Commencement have no idea what in the name of Saint Robert Bellermine he/she's talking about. Sure, you might get a couple of poindexters out in the audience nodding along, and maybe a few stone-deaf alumni who pretend to understand the speech. But, the rest of us are all sitting out there, undoubtedly sweating and itching in the sun, trying to sort out all the greek phrases from the latin ones." Yes, that's what he said.

So I sat at my desk, night after night, racking my brain for something that would be appropriate, yet not stuffy, personal yet not overly sentimental, focused yet not irrelevant. I thought about the major issues — inflation and unemployment, pollution of the air and water, the threat of a nuclear holocaust, the future of the United States in the world order, and so on and so forth. Then it cocurred to me what a fool I had been — that although all of these issues were important, more pressing, more real, that the issue of what occurred here during four years — yes, the "Fairfield issue". Right here and right now, this is what truly matters.

Fairfield is a world in miniature, a unique mixture of joy and pain, security and anxiety, ecstasy and frustration. If you have felt these emotions, then you know what it means to have been a student here — to have waited on bookstore lines stretching out into infinity, to have your only pen run out of ink on a final exam or your calculator die out in the middle of an accounting problem, to awaken with blood-shot eyes after studying for a philosophy mid-term all night. You also know the other side — the sheer mania of thousands of Fairfield students, alumni and townspeople marching up 7th Avenue to Madison Square Garden in the pouring rain to see the Stags play in the 1974 N.I.T., the near-insanity level pranks, the water fights, the quad riots — you all know what I'm talking about.

My point is that although these things may sound somewhat trivial and some rather foolish, they are not. They are the things from which lives are built — my life and yours. No, life at Fairfield cannot be summed up in a string of gold-plated adjectives and high-blown phrases — it can only be summed up by mentioning these experiences. For these four years have been nothing less than an experiment in living for us. We struggled and we squirmed, like newborn babies we adjusted to a strange environment. We learned about ourselves with and thru other people. Most importantly, we learned how to love one another.

Please, don't lose the love that has carried you thru these four years — take it with you, share it with others, others who are perhaps not so fortunate as to have lived thru the Fairfield experience. And hang on to your idealism, yes that youthful idealism that some people call immaturity. College is a great cocoon, they say, wait till you have to work for a living — then you'll see what life's all about, Then you'll see how no one can be trusted — that it's every man for himself! If this is the case, then I wish everyone were wound up inside this cocoon that has sheltered us for four very good years. If idealism is immaturity, then all I can say is that I wish everyone on earth were as immature as we are. Be idealists, be proud, be optimistic. Because you know that one day sometime in the future, you'll be flipping thru a dusty, worn 1977 yearbook, with your son or daughter on your knee, and you'll be saying, "Hey, that was me, that was Fairfield."

Thank you, Michael Malloy

COME IN AND DRIVE ONE OF OUR LEGENDS.

Legend That's a pretty strong word isn't it?

Though we sincerely doubt anyone would consider it too strong when referring to Porsche. After almost thirty years of major automotive innovations not only on the track but on the road.

And Audi's credentials are equally impressive.

You probably didn't know it, but Audi has a history that dates all the way back to 1904 (that's before the Model T). A history that includes a succession of accomplishments on the track and on the road.

But more important than any specific feature of either car is a dedication to engineering excellence that has been a hallmark of Porsches and Audis. That has separated them from other cars. That has made them more than just cars.

Dear Reader,

At last the 1977 Manor has been completed and is ready for your inspection. I hope you will agree that the delay in publication of the book was worthwhile. The staff and myself felt that although we were under pressure to complete the book for a fall publication date, we were not going to put our names to a book that did not measure up to our standards and didn't represent the Fairfield community. The production of a yearbook is difficult at best, and the difficulties become augmented even more when one realizes that the major contributions to this publication were by graduating seniors.

The style and extensive use of candids in this year's book makes it not only a seniors' yearbook but a school yearbook, a book that touches on every facet of the Fairfield community, a complete representation of the university. We have made this book as extensive as available photographs have allowed and I feel confident that it will meet with your approval.

At this point I would like to single out special individuals whose advice, diligence, patience and hard work have made this book possible. I wish to thank Bea Stenako, "our secretary", someone that we could always rely on and will always remember — a truly B.P. The mailroom staff was always giving us a helping hand which we greatly appreciated. Delma Studios, especially Noel Stigelman, and their photographers, proved to be invaluable and without whom this book would not have been possible. Thanks to Jimmy Fitzpatrick, our moderator, for his support and understanding and a special note of thanks to Tom Ring and Margie McGlade who worked on the book until the last pages were finished. Their efforts should be recognized.

Thank you for your patience.

Tom Quick
